Welcome Home to Nature

On the edge of the bustling Riverside precinct lies a hidden valley, a secret gem known only to a few. Where the Nels River splashes and murmurs its way over rocks and through unspoiled indigenous bush. A tranquil place, home to nature's bounty. A place which birds and butterflies call home, and so can you.

Green Valley Estate is the vision of developers who have lived and worked in Mbombela for decades. People who are passionate about the city and the future of lifestyle living, who understand the modern residential needs of today. Why should you have to choose between urban convenience and countryside quality of life? Green Valley Estate's on-trend architecture and style lives in harmony with nature, providing you with the best of both worlds.

The vibe of city living set alongside a lush riverine woodland; within walking distance of a Curro school and you are a few minutes away from your office. If this is your dream, then you are in the right place.

Nature's Landscape

Named for the swathes of unspoiled nature on our doorstep, Green Valley Estate has recreational use of a portion of the Greater Riverside Biodiversity Initiative (GRBI) on the northern edge of the estate. Cycle and walking trails along with a dam and fitness park are planned for the residents. Leisurely summer days spent on the river bank while children chase butterflies and run free ... this is what living green is all about.

The developers believe that green begins at grassroots level and that's the foundation of Green Valley Estate. Combining the latest green building techniques with traditional building methods, precast elements and premanufactured components are just some of the cutting-edge systems used in the construction. Our bulk gas facility delivers gas-on-tap to the units. Energy-efficient lighting, smart metering systems for gas, electricity and water and eco-friendly waste management help keep the development's environmental footprint as light as possible.

After all, if you border the greenbelt that is part of the Greater Riverside Biodiversity Initiative you want to preserve and conserve the green valley that makes Green Valley Estate the place where people live and play in nature's garden.

Our green heritage is unique and exclusive.
